A SMALL LOOK INSIDE

Make the claim fit the evidence

Limited preview | One principle from the full application workflow

AI can make a sentence sound confident without making it true. A useful application starts with evidence you can explain.

Too vague to support

“Marketing expert who transformed email performance.”

A clearer factual sentence

“Drafted two promotional email newsletters per month for review by the campaign owner.”

This is a fictional mini example. It shows scope and frequency without inventing an outcome. Use only wording supported by your own work.

The complete method is in the paid kit

Build your facts sheet, map a vacancy, draft the CV and letter, check your profile, rehearse real STAR answers and track the next step.

This preview is deliberately limited

Full prompts, templates, the worked application, fillable sheets and offline tools are included only in the paid ZIP.
